City, County Sign Fire Contract

A one-year contract providing fire protection for Randall County outside Canyon was signed Monday by the Randall County Commissioners Court and the City of Canyon. The contract calls for a cost percentage payment by the county, and will be good until March 31, 1959.

The county's payment will be figured by taking the total number of fire calls outside the city and dividing that figure by the total number of calls made by the department.

Costs to be included are salaries, wages and supplies; maintenance and repairs to the department-owned Chevrolet pickup and city-owned 1938 Ford pumper truck; utilities; fire school expense; and depreciation on structures and equipment.

The county will continue ownership of their own truck and will be responsible for its good operating condition. The city will maintain its GMC pumper truck at no cost to the county. The GMC truck does not normally make fire calls outside the city.

Payments from the county will be made quarterly under terms of the contract. The first three quarterly payments will be by statement rendered by the city, while the final quarterly payment will be based on an audit of the fire department cost for the fiscal year.

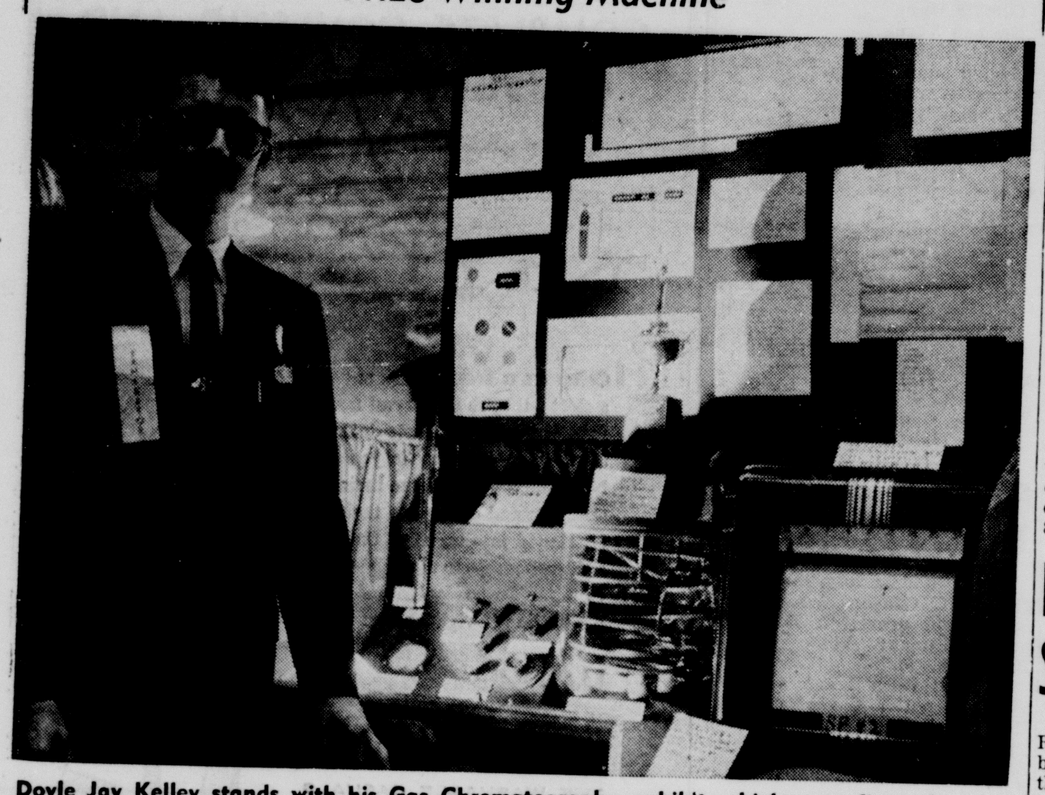
The contract gives county authorization for the fire chief to make emergency repairs to the county truck up to $150 without obtaining prior authority from the commissioners court.

A schedule of expected costs for 1958 and the depreciation schedule is attached to the contract. Salaries and wages, including water credit to the firemen and drill pay, will be $7896; supplies will be $285; maintenance of the two trucks will be $500; utilities and school expense will be $935; and the depreciation schedule totals $985.24.

Total expected cost, plus the depreciation, will be $10,601.24.

The contract was signed by County Judge Roy Joe Stevens and Commissioners B. E. McCormick, Clarence Beckman, Glenn Dowlen and C. Y. Johnson for the county, and Paul Lindsey, mayor pro-tem, for the city. The motion to accept the contract was made Monday by Commissioner Beckman.

Prize-Winning Machine



Doyle Jay Kelley stands with his Gas Chromatography exhibit which won first place at the Texas Panhandle Science Fair held in Amarillo last weekend. The award carried a trip to the National Science Fair in Flint, Mich.

Science Fair Exhibit Wins First For Canyon High School Senior

An exhibit of a home-made machine demonstrating Gas Chromatography won a first place in the Texas Panhandle Science Fair for Doyle Jay Kelley, a senior in Canyon High School.

The award carries an expense-paid trip to the National Science Fair in Flint, Mich., in May for Kelley and his advisor, Mrs. Joseph Findley.

Kelley's exhibit is a working model of a machine that is used to determine the types of gases in a volume of unknown gas. It also gives the percentages of the different types.

The machine works through a combination of electronics and heat, and registers its findings on a graph. The entire exhibit was home made, except the recorder, borrowed from Southwestern Public Service, and a few tubes that were purchased.

This will be Kelley's second trip to the National Science Fair. Two years ago he won first in the Dallas-Fort Worth area science fair and went to the national show. His exhibit that year was in chromatology, but in a different phase than gas.

Kelley came to Canyon High School at the beginning of the present school year. He had previously attended Justin High School his freshman year and Denton High his sophomore and junior years. He is the son of Mrs. Lola Kelley.

Kelley ranks slightly above average in his graduating class, and has mostly A's and B's on his transcript. His present grades are all A's and B's, and he is taking English, Civics, Algebra II, Art and Choir. He has previously taken General Science, Biology and Chemistry.

If enough money can be raised, Kelley's exhibit will be rebuilt by him. The present inner-workings are inside a cabinet made of a breadbox and covered with crepe paper painted black.

He would like to enclose the works in plastic so that those seeing the exhibit could view the inside.

Kelley said his machine is so sensitive that people walking nearby would cause the recorder to give false readings. Electrical disturbances and changes in heat will cause the same trouble, he said.

In addition to the machine, his exhibition includes a series of cards which explain the field of Gas Chromatology, how the machine works, a graph of actual work, and a card which gives credit to those who have helped him.

City Election Comes Tuesday

Election of two city commissioners and a mayor is set for Tuesday with the city hall as balloting place.

Only three names will appear on the ballot as only three candidates filed before the official closing time. On the ballot will be Charles Donnell for mayor, and John P. Taylor and Dr. Lowell Harrison for city commissioners.

Those eligible to vote in the election are residents of Canyon who have valid poll tax receipts or are eligible for exemptions because of age. Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

RCWD Meeting Set for April 7

A county wide meeting of the Randall County Water District has been set for April 7 at 8 p. m. in the Farm Bureau building, according to John Butler, chairman of the county water committee.

W. L. Broadhurst, chief hydrologist of the Water District office in Lubbock, and Virgil Dodson, director of Precinct 4, will present a discussion of irrigation problems of Randall County.

Broadhurst will give results of tests made on six inch irrigation wells and will show slides on recharging wells. He will also discuss problems and answer questions on irrigation.

An invitation has been extended to everyone interested in irrigation.

Umbarger Speed Limits Raised

Speed limits through Umbarger are 50 miles an hour instead of 30, the Randall County Commissioners Court has been notified.

The State Highway Commission passed an order changing the speed limits at the Feb. 26 meeting, a letter to the court says. The letter says the department made a check of speeds through Umbarger on Sept. 6, and based the change on that check.

Wirt Nominated To State Group

Wayne Wirt has been nominated to become the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce representative to the Texas State Park Development Association.

Wirt was notified of his nomination in a letter from the nominating committee, headed by Amon G. Carter Jr., of Fort Worth. The nomination also includes being named to the board of directors. Wirt's name was submitted to the nominating committee by W. E. Snelson, Texas Jaycee president.

Dr. J. A. Hill is a member of the association board, representing the Panhandle of Texas.

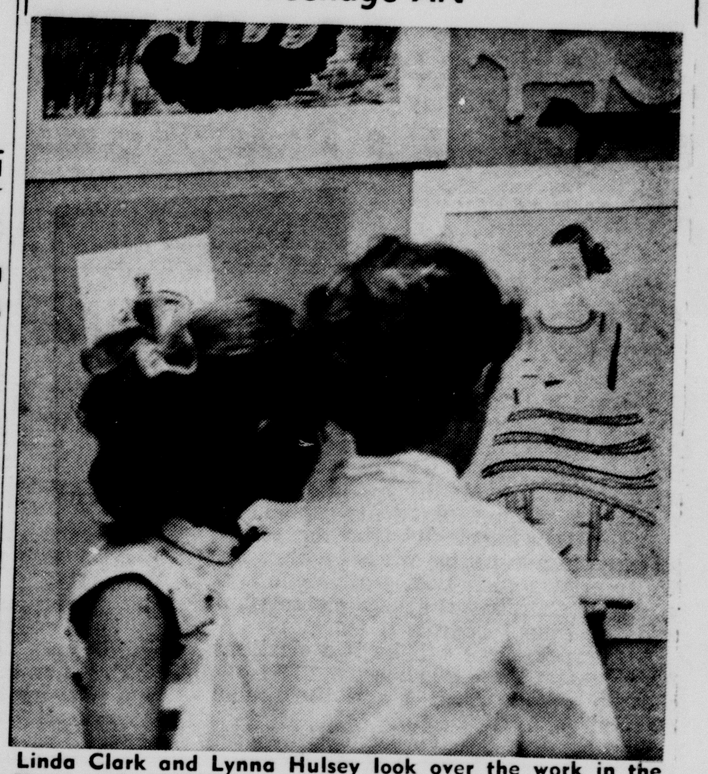
Menke Wins First At PHSPA Meeting

John Menke, editor of The Eagle's Tale, Canyon High School's newspaper printed in The Canyon News, was awarded a first place for his sports column at the annual Panhandle High School Press Association convention Tuesday at West Texas State.

In addition, he was re-elected treasurer of the organization, won an honorable mention for editorial writing and The Eagle's Tale won second place in its group.

Soaring Wings, the annual at the high school, also won a second place in the annual contest.

Teenage Art



Linda Clark and Lynna Hulsey look over the work in the Teenage Art Exhibit currently on display at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. The exhibit of work by Canyon Junior and Senior High School students will remain in the museum until next Tuesday.

Chamber of Commerce Forum for Community Set for April 17, 18

The people of Canyon and Randall County will soon have an opportunity to learn more about the work and objectives of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, and to give their own ideas and suggestions as to the needs of this community.

This is made possible by the chamber of commerce Community Forum that will be held in Canyon April 17 and 18.

The chamber is asking the people of Canyon and the county to plan the work program by means of the community forum.

A series of one-hour meetings will be conducted on the two days, featuring problems and needs of the community. Ralph Duncan, manager of the community services division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and members of his staff will direct the groups.

It is now planned to have sessions to cover these groups: High school seniors, retail merchants, farmers, ranchers, dairymen, retail employees, housewives, women's organizations and professional men and women.

Each of these group sessions will be one hour long and those attending will be asked to list suggested projects and engage in informal discussions of them. Any one may attend as many of the group sessions as they wish; or, they may attend the group sessions of their own choosing.

Address? What the Heck! Why Should I Cash Your Check?

The woman and her husband were arrested in the south part of the county Sunday afternoon and jailed for drunkenness. They had with them a three-months-old baby boy and a daschund.

The baby was taken home by Sheriff L. S. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston took it in. The dog was left at the sheriff's office along with a parakeet belonging to another prisoner.

Monday morning, the couple went to court and fines were set. They had enough money for one to get out, but not enough for both. The woman got out, and the man called Plainview (their home) to get someone to send money by wire. The woman said she was going to the Western Union office to wait for the money.

Instead, she went next door to the Western Auto Store. There she purchased a $2 item and offered a $20 check for it. Bud Parker asked for identification and was shown an out-of-state drivers license. He then asked for an address, and the woman wrote "1200 Sixth" on the check.

Parker has lived at that address for several years now, and wasn't exactly hot to cash the woman's check. And she wasn't exactly hot on the idea of staying in Parker's store, so she left.

Wandering across the square, the woman entered the Canyon Drug, bought some formula makings for the baby and paid with a small check—with a little bit of cash over the cost of the purchase.

She took off wandering again and ended up at J. J. Walker Prescription Lab, where she bought some more things for the baby and offered a check. J. D. Byrd picked up the phone to call the bank to check on the woman's account.

She told him not to bother, she'd just go out to the car and get some money from her husband. When she got outside, she didn't see her husband, though, but representatives of the sheriff's office instead.

Back to jail she went, this time with the possibility of a swindling - by - worthless - check charge hanging over her head. Mrs. Johnston still had the baby, and the daschund was still with the parakeet. The woman had been out of jail maybe 15 minutes before she got back in again.

Later Monday afternoon, the sheriff decided to rid Randall County of the man, the woman, the baby and the dog. Plainview wanted the couple on other charges, so Sheriff Johnston just loaded up the whole bunch and took them to Hale County.

Mrs. Johnston probably came out ahead, though. She said the baby was perfect while she had it, and was very little trouble. To make it nicer, jokesters in the sheriff's office sent a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Johnston at noon Monday, addressed to the "New Mother."

Now the baby is gone, the dog is gone, the woman and her husband are gone, but the flowers are still with Mrs. Johnston.

Commissioners Set-To on Precinct Redistricting

Scene: Commissioners Courtroom
Time: Monday afternoon.
Cast: County Judge Roy Joe Stevens; Commissioners Bailie McCormick, Clarence Beckman, Glenn Dowlen, C. Y. Johnson; Visitor, Charles Graham.

Setting: Johnson said that he would like to take the opportunity of the quietness to bring up a matter which he felt needed consideration.

JOHNSON: When the county was laid out, this probably was an ideal situation, but we must remember a lot of changes have been made in the last 50 years. I am sure we all believe in the democratic system of government, but it seems to me the way things are set up at this time — is this a healthy situation that we have where 77 per cent of the population has one vote on the county commissioners' court?

BECKMAN: What are you trying to do? Get it so you have two or three or four votes?

JOHNSON: I would not want four.

BECKMAN: You might as well have.

JOHNSON: I would be the last to say it should be divided equally on a population basis. There are other factors to consider, but you boil it down to percentages—take your precinct. In 1950 the population was 645 in Precinct 2, according to official U. S. Bureau of the Census figures. Precinct 4 had 7,467. That means 5 per cent in Precinct 2 and 54 per cent in Precinct 4.

BECKMAN: How about roads?

JOHNSON: We are not representing roads entirely. Roads do not pay taxes.

BECKMAN: I would agree that the city commissioners should sit in on paying taxes but when you come down to roads they do not have any. They have city streets. We have a little population and we have nothing to say about city streets, but we do not have a courthouse or law enforcement.

JOHNSON: It seems to me that the population figure is getting a little top-heavy and it seems like eventually something has got to be done and I do not know whether we as commissioners have the courage or vision to do it or not.

BECKMAN: Hasn't something already been done in electing legislators to represent the people on a population basis?

JOHNSON: But they go to Austin. They do not come to Canyon.

BECKMAN: But they are supposed to make laws that we abide by.

DOWLEN: It seems to me a majority of the people are represented.

JOHNSON: Precincts 1, 2 and 3 represent a minority in population, but three against two represents a controlling vote in this court.

DOWLEN: There are quite a few in Precinct 1.

JOHNSON: Still a minority. Thirty per cent or less. You could very easily control policy of the county with that 30 per cent if you wanted to.

DOWLEN: There has never been anyone who said anything to me about it.

JOHNSON: We have had no serious disturbance, but we could. It is possible.

BECKMAN: You are saying you have a big population in a small area and you would like to get control of the county.

JOHNSON: But you others do have control if you want to.

GRAHAM: How is Potter County represented?

STEVENS: Every county has four commissioners.

JOHNSON: Three are from the City of Amarillo. This past two legislatures—that 10-40 bill was not a bad bill and I do not know why it did not pass except that rural areas control the legislature.

BECKMAN: I did not know a minority could control the legislature. I am glad to know we have control.

STEVENS: It is hard to know what you term rural areas.

JOHNSON: No county in Texas can elect more than one senator. Harris County has more than a million people, yet they cannot have more than one senator.

GRAHAM: New York has only two senators.

JOHNSON: How many representatives?

GRAHAM: The senate always has the final word.

JOHNSON: What the 1960 census will show I do not know.

BECKMAN: I am sure that if it continues to grow (meaning South Amarillo), the 1960 census will show great change.

JOHNSON: Are you satisfied?

BECKMAN: You haven't heard me complaining, and I see no reason for you to complain. I do not know of any major problem you have had where the court has not gone along with you. It looks kind of foolish to consider population the deciding factor regarding roads out in the county.

JOHNSON: But you are not going to ignore the population factor entirely?

BECKMAN: No. Have you lost any issues?

JOHNSON: But your vote, the representation the people have, is weakened if you do not have representation according to population. You have been very generous about the north part of the county. I am not sure our tax structure is right. You take 20 per cent of a house's value in town. We do not take 20 per cent of land values.

BECKMAN: You don't know whether we do or not.

JOHNSON: I do not believe you do. A house in town will not make you anything. It is just a place to live and raise a family and get in out of the weather.

BECKMAN: You can get out of it and rent it. But you cannot do anything with these farms unless you get out and find a buyer. We paid on cattle two years at 20 per cent.

JOHNSON: You are paying 20 per cent on cattle now?

BECKMAN: I am not talking about cattle now. (Missed some of his remarks here). You tax a business place on buildings but not on the business, but you tax a farmer on his business.

JOHNSON: You get inventories on business establishments, don't you?

BECKMAN: It makes a lot of difference on inventory.

JOHNSON: I think we were about ready at one time to get a county-wide tax valuation, but that did not go over.

BECKMAN: I thought we got one.

JOHNSON: We got a citizens' opinion, not an expert appraisal.

BECKMAN: They would know this country better than anyone out of Galveston or New York City.

DOWLEN: If you feel the tax rate is wrong, you have the majority to change it—the judge, you, and McCormick.

JOHNSON: Not in numbers.

DOWLEN: That is why you do not get your bill through the legislature—because they do not want to put it in the hands of a minority.

JOHNSON: Precinct 4 in 1950 had 54 per cent of the population of Randall County. No telling what it will be in 1960.

DOWLEN: If the tax is wrong between the city and the county, I still say you have the majority vote in this court.

STEVENS: Even though there might have been a mistake or so made in the tax evaluation the county had made, as Mr. Beckman says, there was a great step forward made with that attempt at re-evaluation.

JOHNSON: It will take time to work this program out—

STEVENS: I think Mr. McCormick should have a chance to make his views known.

McCORMICK: I believe I will pass. Since we are not voting on anything, I will stay out of this.

JOHNSON: I did not propose any radical changes being made today. I was not that optimistic, but I do think it ought to be given serious study.

BECKMAN: But you think the boys on the outside are not paying their share?

JOHNSON: Not percentage-wise.

BECKMAN: No. We probably pay more, percentage-wise, than the voters in the city, counting personal property taxes and all.

JOHNSON: We in the city pay personal property taxes, too.

(Editor's note: The 10-40 bill to which Johnson referred is a bill that would require that each commissioners precinct have at least 10 per cent and not over 40 per cent of the number of residents in the county. Such a bill, with various other features, has been presented to the last two legislatures. It failed both times. The foregoing transcription was taken shorthand by Pollyanna Hughes, to whom we are indebted).

Why Bother To Vote?

Serving the public is a thankless job, fraught with trouble and filled with grief. A man who serves is set up as a target, fair game for anyone who feels he knows what should be done but neither has nor wants the responsibility for action.

And this is especially true for public servants in non-payng or low-payng jobs. We have two such bodies of public servants in Canyon—the city commission and the school board.

Next week there will be two elections for places on those two boards. The city election will be April 1 and the school election on April 5.

One slate of candidates has filed for the places on the two boards. Charles Donnell has filed for mayor and Lowell Harrison and John P. Taylor have filed for city commissioners. Each was petitioned to serve, to fill the places to be vacated by Hosea Foster, Paul Lindsey and Bob Bellah.

Conway Kuykendall and J. O. Parker have filed for re-election to the school board.

It's nearly a cinch that they will all be elected. There will be some write-in votes, but those who filed will probably be elected.

As a good send-off for the new commission and for the two asking for re-election to the school board, how about a heavy vote—a vote of confidence, as it were.

It takes only a few minutes to cast a ballot. The polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. The polling place in both elections will be the city hall.

Why bother? Put yourself in the candidate's place. If only a handful of voters turn out and vote, would you feel you had the backing of the people? Of course you wouldn't. A light turnout would make you feel that most of the people didn't care, and you might also begin to feel that your stewardship does not matter very much.

If every eligible voter in Canyon turned out for the city election, there would be upwards of 1400 ballots cast. A turnout of 600 might be considered a good turnout. We are willing to bet that there won't be more than 200 ballots cast, and probably less than 100.

But we'd like to think that more people will drop by the polls to give the new commission a vote of confidence and thanks for their candidacy. We plan to vote, and we'd like to see your name on the poll list, also.

Who Needs Exercise?

(Reprinted from the Ochiltree County Herald.—Editor)

Professor Thomas K. Cureton Jr., a member of the physical education faculty of the University of Illinois, says we Americans grow old disgracefully young because we don't or won't take any exercise.

In fact, he defines middle age as 26 for most of us. The professor says we should get with it—take more exercise. He advocates walking, running, skating, skiing, dancing, canoeing, rowing, climbing and cross-country hiking.

Here's where the professor shows his provincial upbringing.

In this Panhandle of Texas city of Perryton we will have to rule out immediately four of these by virtue of terrain unsuited to such. We can't fancy ourselves canoeing, rowing, skiing, or climbing around here. If we get to Wolf Creek Dam or Lake Fryer we might canoe or row, but skiing and climbing, never.

This leaves walking, running, skating (roller skating, of course), dancing and cross-country hiking.

All of us would agree that cross-country hiking should be left to the true athlete in these parts, what with the nearest hamlet (Farnsworth) located 10 miles away.

This leaves walking, running, skating and dancing. We may as well leave out running for the middle aged—might bring on a collapse.

We still have walking, skating and dancing.

Skating is on the doubtful side. Certainly we can't expect adults to strap on roller skates right here in Perryton in this day and time. This would look sillier than riding a bicycle, an European custom that hasn't quite taken hold here.

This leaves walking and dancing.

We would argue with the professor about the virtues of dancing as true exercise. Too often it is associated with the noxious fumes of cigarettes, sometimes (perish the thought) with the consumption of alcoholic beverages, and usually with the attendant health peril associated wih late hours and insufficient sleep.

We seem to have narrowed the choice down to one—walking.

Care for a stroll, anyone?

Congratulations

The Canyon News is proud that one of the teenagers who attend Canyon High School won first place in the science fair in Amarillo and won a chance to take his exhibit to the National Science Fair in Flint, Michigan.

Doyle Jay Kelly, a senior in Canyon High, won the honor with an exhibit of Gas Chromatology. Young Kelly explained the machine to us for about an hour, and we understood very little of what he had to say. But his exhibit is a home-made working model of a machine that many industries and chemists use.

Our congratulations to Kelly, not only for his winning exhibit and the work it represents, but for being a top-notch representative of his contemporaries.

A Fine Exhibition

Have you taken time yet to see the exhibition of Teenage Art at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum? The exhibit will close next Monday, and you will have missed an opportunity if you don't drop by for a few minutes.

The exhibit is of work done by junior high and senior high students in Canyon, under the direction of Claudia Neeley. The work is not of "masterpiece" quality, but no one could expect that. The paintings, craft-objects and drawings will show you how the youth of Canyon can work, however.

Explanatory material is available at the registration table on the third floor of the museum, and other explanatory signs are placed with the work. Miss Neeley explained various types of "contemporary" art with a few words and a sample of each type—and it helped us to understand better.

As she puts it, "It is hoped that the art program will provide for your teenager a pleasurable and constructive release of tensions, a realization of his abilities and worth as an individual, as well as one of the most satisfying of all modes of expression."

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald: The hue and cry over our recession is growing stronger, even frantic in some quarters. Hard times have hit around some industrial centers and Congress is quite upset. Now just how upset did everyone get a year or so ago when this entire Southwest area was gripped in a drouth that kept hanging on and hasn't really turned loose yet? Cattle men and sheep men in West Texas were forced to sell off their thin herds. Farms blew and debts piled up to the point where they are still way too high. Farmers had to go into town and other cities and hunt work. Businessmen in many towns and cities of this Southwest area have folded up in the drouth. But nobody seemed to get much alarmed about the farmer and cattlemen and the businesses of the agricultural area that depended upon agriculture.

It is only when the pinch is on the other foot—on the foot of organized labor, if you please, that the cries and howls go up. Right now there are organized teams of lobbyists, scores of them, haunting Congressmen's offices, demanding that something be done for labor. The farmers had no such pressure to bear. That is one reason why the cost of food has constantly mounted, while the price to farmers has steadily gone down.

Ernest Joiner in the Ralls Banner: This is a week for practical jokes. We hear the story about a couple of lads over around Turkey who captured a bobcat. They secured a suitcase, put some Texas Tech stickers on its sides, put the bobcat in the suitcase, and left it beside the highway.

"A carload of seven Negro youths came along, spotted the suitcase, stopped and took it. A few miles down the road they decided to open it up and see what kind of a windfall they had fallen upon. Immediately the car exploded. Two in the back seat dived out the door, fracturing some legs. One in the front seat fractured his skull in abandoning the speeding automobile. As for the bewildered bobcat, he was still in the car as it went over a bluff! We understand that the judge wants to punish the two boys for precipitating a near-tragedy but can't find anything in the statute books making it an offense to put a bobcat in a suitcase. We just wonder if the judge can't find a law exacting punishment for stealing someone's property along the highway."

Ben Ezzell in the Canadian Record: Don't get swell-headed if your wife calls you a "model husband." The dictionary says a model is "a small imitation of the real thing."

Agent Tells Club To Try New Style

Members of the Pleasant View Home Demonstration Club were advised to try one new style trend by Mrs. Mona Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, as the club met with Mrs. Ray Welch recently.

Mrs. Hildreth made her remarks in explaining new fashions.

Mrs. Blain Hufnagle, club council delegate, conducted the opening exercise. Mrs. John Jennings, finance chairman, showed products that club members might sell to raise money.

Nine members and a guest were served chocolate cake, nuts, mints and coffee.

JOHN C. Roberts SHOES FOR MEN
T. A. BLACK

How often have men been told that, with women, it's the little things that count?

Yet every good American husband feels he has failed if he can't bedeck his wife in mink and give her a sleek car of her own. Furthermore, every ornery one thinks that if he does these things, his wife should be happy regardless of his actions.

Although we have neither an ornery spouse NOR luxuries, we wouldn't blame a woman for not relishing this kind of adolescent pay-off. It's like giving Baby Sister a stick of candy instead of letting her take part in the game.

And the "little things?" Oh, a proud look when the man in our lives takes us to a party. Breakfast talk that — at least once in a while — is as lighthearted as the office banter. A joint vacation every year or so. A long distance call when he's out of town. Confidences shared, jokes appreciated, understanding glances passed.

The other morning our spouse won his spurs as the right kind of man. We woke up to find deep snow had covered our world. We were worn out with winter and ready for spring. We came out to the car wearing antique plastic galoshes, a long tweed coat (so warm!) that made a path in the snow, a brown velvet tam held firmly in place by a multicolored scarf, a great armload of "errands" to be run, and the solemn look of a martyr.

He didn't burst out laughing, he just allowed himself a small chuckle. "You look a little quaint in that costume," he commented as he opened the door.

We enjoyed it all day. So many ways he could have said it — but quaint! Yes, it's the little things that count.

Club Party Turns Out as a Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lamb were hosts to a party for the Highland Home Demonstration Club, but the club surprised the Lambs with a house-warming March 14.

Mrs. Howard Newman was also given a pink and blue shower.

Games were played and refreshments were served.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The deadline date for seeding grass on Soil Bank land is rapidly approaching. Provided the dead cover on your land is approved by the ASC office, you must seed the grass by May 15.

T. T. Triplett, who lives north of the Claude highway near the east side of Randall County, has already weathered his first attempt at grass seeding and has come through with a stand of grass to prove that his efforts were not wasted. Triplett is a cooperator with the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District.

"I do not want to pose as an authority on grass seeding," stated Triplett as he talked with a technician of the Soil Conservation Service, "but I will be glad to tell anyone what I did and let them see the grass."

Triplett seeded about 75 acres in April, 1956, in a cover of dead sudan that was grown in the fall of 1955.

"I seeded six pounds of Blue grama, one pound of Western Wheat and one or two pounds of Side Oats grama per acre with a Nesbitt grass-seed drill," explained Triplett.

"The biggest mistake I made was in not spraying for weeds in 1956. The grass came up to a good stand, but it looked so little and weak that I was afraid the spray might kill it," explained Triplett.

"I sure thought the weeds had killed all my grass, but a lot came on out in 1957. It was so dry that the bindweeds didn't do much in 1956; I guess that was one reason more grass came through than I expected," he said.

Triplett sprayed his grass twice in 1957, once the middle of May and again the first of July. He had been using 2-4D in his bindweed control program; so when he began spraying his grass, he cut the 2-4D mixture to half strength.

"Cutting down on that spray was another mistake I made," said Triplett. "And I have the weeds out there to show it. You can tell to the drill-row where I began using the same spray I had been using on the bindweed. I was sure lucky in that I had sprayed just a little and had to quit spraying for a few days. By the time I went back to finish spraying, no one had to tell me to go back to the regular strength spray," added Triplett.

Triplett has just finished seeding the remainder of one-half section. It is doubtful that he will make the same mistakes that he made on his first grass seeding. In fact, Triplett is already thinking about checking his spray rig.

Triplett believes that if you follow the recommendations of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District, you will get a stand of grass established, especially with the ideal moisture conditions at present.

First, establish a good cover of dead sorghum or sudan stubble. Do not allow cover crops to make seed.

Second, buy your grass seed on the basis of a seed test that shows the percent of pure- live seed. One bag of seed may look just as good as another, but there may be a big difference in the percentage of pure, live seed.

Third, sow the grass seed with a special grass-seed drill on a firm seedbed.

Fourth, spray or mow for weeds after the grass comes up. Weeds will sap the moisture away from the grass seedlings and decrease the chances of the grass living.

If you have not made arrangements to secure a grass-seed drill, contact T. L. Devin, Vocational Agriculture teacher at Canyon High School, about renting one of the drills owned by the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF RANDALL

TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN HATTON'S RE-PLAT OF BLOCK 10 of SOUTH SIDE ESTATES, A SUBDIVISION IN RANDALL COUNTY, TEXAS:

WHEREAS, on March 10, 1958, J. A. Hatton and wife, Willie Mae Hatton, filed in the office of the County Clerk of Randall County, Texas, their certain petition to the Commissioners Court of said county, as follows:

"TO THE COMMISSIONERS COURT OF RANDALL COUNTY, TEXAS:

Come now J. A. Hatton and Willie Mae Hatton, husband and wife, who reside in Hutchinson County, Texas, hereinafter called petitioners, and file this, their application for permission of this Court to cancel a subdivision of land in Randall County, Texas, and in support hereof respectfully represent to the Court and aver:

1. That by deed bearing date of June 19, 1944, recorded in Volume 95 Pages 163 and 164 of the Deed Records of Randall County, Texas, Southside Investment Company, a corporation, conveyed to your petitioners, jointly, the following described lands, lying and being situated in Randall County, Texas, to-wit:

Tracts Numbers One (1) Through Sixteen (16), inclusive, in Block Number Ten (10) of the Southside Estates, a subdivision of the Southeast part of Sections 5 and 6 in Block 9, B. S. & F., in Randall County, Texas.

2. That thereafter your petitioners caused said land so conveyed to them, as aforesaid, to be subdivided into lots and blocks and caused a plat of said subdivision thereof to be made and after the filing thereof was authorized by this Court, said plat was filed for record on June 12, 1956 and was recorded in Volume 199 Pages 179 and 180 of the Deed Records of Randall County, Texas, designated as Hatton's Re-plat of said Block 10 of South Side Estates.

3. That by virtue of such subdivision of said lands and the filing and recording of said plat, the aforesaid lands were subdivided into the following lots and blocks, to-wit:

Lots 1, 2 and 3 in Block 1;
Lots 1 to 10, inclusive, in Block 2;
Lots 1 to 17, inclusive, in Block 3;
Lots 1 to 22, inclusive, in Block 4;
All in Hatton's Re-Plat of Block 10 of South Side Estates, a subdivision of the Southeast part of Sections 5 and 6, Block 9, B. S. & F. Survey in Randall County, Texas.

4. That none of said lots last above described have been sold or conveyed since said subdivision was made and your petitioners are now the sole owners of each and all of said lots and blocks and the streets and alleys shown on said re-plat.

5. That it will be advantageous to your petitioners to cancel the aforesaid re-plat and subdivision of said Block 10 of South Side Estates, so made, as aforesaid, and throw said land back into acreage tracts as it existed before such re-subdivision thereof; that such cancellation will not interfere with the established rights of any person, or persons.

WHEREFORE, your petitioners respectfully pray that an order be made and entered setting a day of a regular term of this Court for hearing this petition, that the County Clerk of Randall County be ordered and directed to issue and cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the English Language in said county, for three weeks, that is once each week for three consecutive weeks prior to the date of said hearing, notice of the filing of this petition, commanding any and all persons interested in the aforesaid lands to appear at the time and place specified therein to protest the granting of this petition if they desire to do so; and that upon a hearing hereof an order be made and entered herein canceling said subdivision and relinquishing the rights of the public in and to the streets and alleys in said subdivision, authorizing your petitioners to cancel said subdivision by a written instrument to be executed and filed by them."

Said petition will be heard and acted on by said Court at 10:00 o'clock A. M. on April 14, 1958 at the court house of Randall County in Canyon, Texas, at which time and place all persons interested in said lands described in said petition shall appear and protest the granting of said petition if they desire to do so.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

A man who was promoting a project in the name of building up a town persuaded friends to invest. Several years went by and there were no dividends. He went around to the friends and told them that he felt an obligation because they had put in their money in response to his urging and he offered to buy their stock for half price. After doing so, he immediately resold at the full price to a big corporation which was taking over the enterprise.

He was a wealthy man — in money, but not in friends.

That was a long time ago. The sharper and his victims are dead. But I came across the story in an envelope of clippings in the city's library.

"The evil that men do lives after them" — or at least the memory of the evil lives.

Ty Cobb, whom many consider the greatest baseball player of all time, was playing his first pro game and, with a man on base, the manager told him to sacrifice. The pitch was so to his liking that he took a full swing and knocked the ball over the fence. When he triumphantly returned to the bench expecting to be praised for making a home run, he was fined $5 for disobeying instructions.

Many great writers have had pen names.

Samuel Clemens used "Mark Twain;" Mary Evans wrote as "George Eliot;" William Sidney Porter as "O. Henry;" and when I wrote sports in the West Texas Oil Belt, I used "Whoofus Whiffletree."

Yes, the "column" was headed "Whoofus Whiffletree's Woozy Wanderings."

Magazines come and magazines go — but that old-time standby of the barbershops, the Police Gazette, goes on forever.

SS Class Meets In Morgan Home

Twelve members of the Phebean Sunday School class were present at a monthly social and business session March 13 in the home of Mrs. Frank Morgan.

Mrs. Arthur Brewer gave "My Favorite Author" as a program.

Mrs. H. M. Stokes opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. Carl V. Wimberly, the secretary, gave a three months average report.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The ever increasing unemployment is causing deep concern in the Nation's Capitol. Everyone seems to be discussing recession and offering some cure-all for the economic ills. This is bad business for several reasons. In the first place, if we have a recession, discussion will not cure it.

In the second place, hasty and ill-considered actions are not the proper approach. Scare talk and haphazard action could easily result in inflationary results that could bring on a rip-roaring depression. There is no doubt that the economy needs shoring up in several areas and particulars.

Excessive spending by government or private business would undoubtedly provide temporary relief. The fact is that private business is not going to do it. Whether or not the government does it remains to be seen. The President and several of the leaders in the Congress have advocated different plans, but they all require sizeable spending.

The Administration plan, which will probably be officially presented to the Congress, involves an expenditure of approximately 25 billions of dollars. It is anticipated that approximately 25 per cent of this amount would be expended in the very near future. The remaining 75 per cent would be spent over a period of approximately 5 to 6 years. About 90 per cent of the first year's expenditures would be for defense spending.

This means that additional contracts would be let making it possible for many of the industrial and manufacturing concerns to hire many employees who are now idle. This would undoubtedly be a stabilizing influence, although temporary in many areas of the midwest, the east and the Pacific Coast.

It would not be of much help to the south and the southwest. Other economic fields included in the initial program of the Administration include water resources projects on which no further action is required except commencement of construction; public housing projects; and many river and harbor improvement projects which are under the general supervision of the Army Engineers. These are commonly referred to as public works projects.

Included in the over-all program of the Administration we could list the numerous projects which have been authorized but for which no appropriations have been made. Many towns throughout the country have been approved for new post offices, but there has been no general public works program wherein money has been appropriated to carry out these approved locations.

The President recently indicated at a press conference that well over a billion dollars should be spent for modernization of post offices. This was an indication to many people that he was going to ask for authority in this regard. I wrote the Postmaster General and asked that he document the procedure that the Department intended to pursue in carrying out the President's proposals.

I received a report from the Post Office Department to the effect that they had no documented plans but were waiting to see what Congress was going to do. I was somewhat surprised at this answer because I felt sure that the Post Office Department had some plan or method of operation in mind.

If they don't, it could be safely said that whatever was done under their procedure would not be of much assistance to the present economic situation because its impact would not be felt for two years.

Also included in the over-all proposal of the Administration could be listed the proposal to increase the authority of FHA so that $3 billion a year could be channeled into home building over a period of five years. There is also the request of the Administration for additional lending authority on the part of the Export-import Bank. This money is available for use in distressed areas of foreign countries. While the matter was being considered in Committee, a Texas Congressman suggested an amendment to the effect that the money could also be used for loan purposes in distressed areas in this country.

The proponents of the bill to increase the lending power of the Export-Import Bank vigorously opposed this amendment although they never could come up with any reason why distressed areas in this country should be discriminated against in favor of distressed areas in foreign countries.

Of course, the highway program is a part of this over-all program but it will be several years before any anti-recession impact could be felt from expenditures made under the regular highway program.

The fact is that our present economic dilemma has been building up for several years. Warnings to this effect have gone unheeded by those who were in position to have guarded against it. We can thank our lucky stars that these powers have now awakened to the facts that should have been well known to them several years ago.

We can hope and pray that proper action is taken to correct the situation promptly. We have the right to expect that inadvisable, inappropriate and impractical action will not be taken that could result in temporary relief and permanent detriment.

The White House Tea

Mrs. Rogers came home the other evening with a glowing account of how beautiful the White House was decorated inside and how lovely Mrs. Eisenhower looked. It seems that Mrs. Eisenhower interrupted her vacation to come back to Washington in order to entertain at a tea that had been scheduled for some time.

The White House was decorated in appropriate Irish fashion. Mrs. Eisenhower, in keeping with the decorations, was attired in a green dress and received the guests in the Green Room. From the accounts that I heard, it was a lovely and impressive tea.

Growing Champions

Ralph Robinson, left, recently was named Randall County Sorghum Growing Champion at a banquet held at Plainview in honor of West Texas sorghum growing champions. His yield was 7234.56 pounds per acre on irrigated land. Runnersup were Sylvester Batenhorst and Vincent Friemel with a yield of 5114.11 pounds per acre.

CHEVY'S NEW V8 LEVELS THE HIGHEST, HARDEST HIGHWAY OVER THE ANDES!

To prove the durability of Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8,* the tremendous flexibility of the new Turboglide transmission,* the incredible smoothness of Full Coil suspension, we tackled the most challenging transcontinental road in the world — the 1,000-mile General San Martin Highway. To make it harder, the Automobile Club of Argentina sealed the hood shut at Buenos Aires — no chance to add oil or water or adjust carburetors for high altitude.

So the run began — across the blazing Argentine pampas, into the ramparts of the forbidding Andes. Up and up the road climbed, almost 2½ miles in the sky! Drivers gasped for oxygen at 12,572 feet — but the Turbo-Thrust V8 never slackened its torrent of power, the Full Coil springs smothered every bump, the Turboglide transmission made play of grades up to 30 percent. Then a plunge to the Pacific at Valparaiso, Chile, a quick turn-around and back again. Time for the round trip: 41 hours 14 minutes — and the engine was never turned off!

*Extra-cost option.

The sure-footed Chevrolet purrs past a road sign that says "danger"—and ahead lies the toughest part of the perilous Andean climb!

Leadership Needed

Leadership is a quality which everyone should attempt to achieve not only for promoting a better future citizen, but also for benefitting yourself through the securing of better jobs.

A nation is only as strong as the people who make it up. The beginning of America's climb to world prominence was made possible only by the great leaders we were blessed with during the early critical years.

The best citizens of today are also the best leaders. However, good followers are as important as good leaders. Leaders are helpless without followers. We must be willing to follow our leaders. It is also important that we follow the right leaders for even the greatest of leaders may often be leading to that which is not really worth while.

Furthermore being a good follower will enable one to become a good leader. One cannot possibly lead if he cannot follow.

A person wishing to become a leader must be willing to render services for his fellow man. An active part in the activities around him is essential. Now is an excellent time to start by participating fully in the activities offered at CHS.

Another quality of a good leader is being a good loser as well as a good winner. Becoming a leader means learning to accept loss graciously. This builds up character and the respect.

Besides insuring a better future as useful citizens, leadership is an aid to prosperity. The better paying jobs are given only to those who are good leaders. If you can lead others it naturally follows that you will get the better paying job leading the rest of the fellow workers.

Leadership has many advantages so begin today to develop it and enjoy its benefits tomorrow.

Eagle Views

Canyon's track and field team made an impressive showing March 20 when they defeated Hereford in their first track meet of the year. Canyon was victorious in compiling 73 points as opposed to Hereford's 65 points.

Canyon has tried for two weeks to schedule a track meet but was unable to compete in any until now because of bad weather. The team made up for lost time by winning six first places and several second and third place ratings to win the meet.

Richard Burgess enjoyed a good day, being the only one to win two first places. He won first in the shot putt with a distance of 44 feet and the discus throw for 140 feet.

Canyon's two entries in the mile relay won first and second. The team composed of Dwayne Ledbetter, Eddie Boydstun, Tommy Henderson and Craig Hinger came in first in 3:45 and the team composed of Jerry Parker, Dale Henry, Roy Harris and Bob Winn took second with a time of 3:55. Canyon also placed in the 440 relay.

Jerry Smyrl captured another first for Canyon by running the mile in 5:23. In the high hurdles, Chuck Nester took first place with a time of 16.8 and Tommy Henderson placed third. Chuck also won second in the low hurdles.

Eddie Boydstun ran the 100 yard dash in 10.5 to come in second in the field.

Ross Bond and Larry Brotherton ran the 880 yard dash and came in second and third. In the 440 yard dash, Larry Kitchens and Richard Purcell placed third and fourth.

Craig Hinger placed third in the high jump by clearing 5'4". Eddie Boydstun leaped 17'9" to place third in the broad jump.

A HEALTH SPOT

Tourist (to native) — Is this a very healthful place?

"Wall, I should smile! They ain't been a death here for many years. And the last party who died was the undertaker, and he died from hunger, he did."

Junior Red Cross Makes $28.34

Twenty-eight dollars and thirty-four cents was collected by Friday morning at CHS for the Junior Red Cross fund. One hundred and eighty-five students contributed, which is about 60 per cent of the high school enrollment.

Junior Red Cross representatives started collecting Thursday and Friday. Those working were as follows: Betsy Callarman, Kenneth Engle, seniors; Barbara Myers, Larry Kitchens, juniors; Judy Taylor, Chuck Nester, sophomores, and Dorothy Higdon and Joe Triplett, freshmen.

Anyone who gave at least a penny was enrolled in the Junior Red Cross.

Films Presented; Garments Styled

Films of Germany, France, Austria, and Italy were shown at the FHA meeting by Mr. and Mrs. McClendon who were stationed in Germany for two years during his tour of military duty.

Freshman students presented a style show of garments made this year. Winning were Nancy Cleavinger, first; Candy Throckmorton, second; Kay Boydstun, third; Barbara Hufnagle, fourth; Peggy Sue Hales, fifth; and Sally White, sixth.

FHA pins were awarded to the 20 girls who served at the annual banquet.

Plans for the state FHA meeting were discussed. Mrs. Suzanne Tatman, homemaking instructor, will accompany two representatives from freshman and sophomore classes. Girls from third year who will receive their state degrees will take the trip.

Marshall Finalist On National Test

Blonde haired, blue eyed Mary Gladys Marshall, senior, is a finalist in the National Presbyterian College Scholarship Program. Out of several thousand contestants, 300 semi-finalists were selected, and from this group a number of finalists were chosen.

Mary Gladys will be notified in April or early May whether or not she will receive a scholarship. Fifty scholarships will be awarded throughout the United States for attendance at church affiliated colleges.

She has been in choir for four years. She was an accompanist in choir, participated in ensembles, and is a member of the Choral Club. She was a member of the All-Regional Choir that sang in Pampa.

Mary Gladys has been a member of FHA four years. She achieved her state degree in FHA, was public relations chairman and presi-

Other honors she has received are sophomore class treasurer, National Honor Society for two years, NHS president, English award for three years and the homemaking award. She was selected as a member of Junior Who's Who last year.

Mary Glady's favorite food is enchiladas. Her favorite singer is Johnny Mathis, and her favorite song is "Twelfth of Never." Her hobbies are playing the piano and doodling in cooking.

She plans to enter Trinity University in San Antonio. Interested in business and interior decoration, but she has not yet decided what her major will be.

Wheelock Cast in All-Regional Play

John Robert Wheelock was selected as a member of the All-Star District play cast at Tulia March 17.

Blond haired, blue eyed John Robert, "Rabbit," has been quite active during his four years in CHS. He is a member of the National Honor Society and Science Club president last year and received the honor of being named to Junior Who's Who. He has participated in football, junior play, one-act plays and Interscholastic literature activities. He made the All-Regional football team this year, and was second in district declamation in '57.

John Robert plans to major in mathematics or science in college and will probably attend WT.

Museum Is Scene For Teen-Age Art

The Teen-Age Exhibit using the work of over 270 art students from the sixth through twelfth grades has been an immense success. The exhibit is being displayed on the second floor of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum from March 16-31.

A tea was given by the mothers of the art students March 16 to celebrate the opening of the exhibit. The tea was attended by 260 guests.

The unique exhibit of teen-age talent has drawn widespread attention. It has been visited by many local people as well as travelers from over the Panhandle and the United States who have visited the museum.

Many types of art were shown. Clay sculpture, wire and string sculpture, soap carving, paper mache, design, block printing with linoleum or plaster blocks, and tooled leather in original designs were exhibited.

In the clay sculpture there were abstract designs, portrait and figures. The paintings and drawings included portraits, landscapes, still life, fantasy, caricature and buildings.

The media used for the paintings and drawings was of a varied nature. Paintings included tempera, chalk, water color and combination techniques. Drawings included pencil, pen, brush, crayon and charcoal.

Another interesting group was the cut paper pasted together to make pictures. This type was also combined with clay and paints in one piece of art.

A group of "paint blots" offered the viewer the possibility of deciding for himself what it was. This group was done by placing paint on one side of a piece of paper and folding it in the middle, thus producing an exact duplicate on the other half of the paper. This group was most expressive in nature.

As a result of a study of the different types of modern art, there were many pieces done in one of the styles of modern art.

The beautiful contrast of colors and the wide variety and quality of the work all added up to an impressive exhibit.

Senior Play 'Ghost In The Belfry' To Be Presented March 27-28

"Must I fall so realistically at each practice?" moaned Bonnell Riley as he lifted his aching body from the stage floor during a senior play rehearsal.

The cast of the senior play is working feverishly to present a polished piece of work to the audience March 27 and 28. Curtain time for the play, which is expected to be one of the best, will be 8 p. m. in the CHS auditorium. Tickets can be purchased from any member of the senior class or at the door at 50 cents for general admission and 75 cents for reserved seats.

The play, "The Ghost in the Belfry," is a mystery in three acts. It is an atmosphere play which when given the right mood succeeds in scaring the cast itself.

For the sound effects committee the play is a dilly. It keeps the group busy trying to produce the thunder, lightning, bells and erie sounds which help create the atmosphere.

The play is the story of childhood sweethearts returning to be married in the old abandoned church where they attended as children. Their friends come as attendants, minister and best man. They arrive in a terrible storm and are frightened by sinister sounds and by ghost tales about the old church. They sense that something is amiss. When told to flee for their lives because a ghost has been seen, they find the rain has washed out the road. Things go from bad to worse and the play builds up to a smashing climax with surprise crowding upon surprise.

The phantom will be played by Louise Higdon; Dai Barclay, the bride-to-be, by Janet Taylor; Eric Gregory, groom, by Bonnell Riley; John Dagmar, minister, by Alan Hanks; Dora Conroy, Rita Trask and Penny Gifford, all attendants, will be played by Rita Grabbe, Jean Tandy and Janet Wheeler. A. L. Pruett will play Allen Newcomb, best man; and Jim Fanning will be Uriah Vinton, an old inhabitant. Selma and Sadie Otis are two old maid sisters portrayed by Barbara Brown and Joy Rose.

Pictures Planned For Senior Year

By an unanimous vote, the junior class voted to renew their contract for the fourth consecutive year with the Marquise Studios of Enid, Okla., to make their senior pictures.

Mr. W. B. Harris, representative, met with the juniors on March 18 and showed samples of his company's work. His company believes in fine retouching and Mr. Harris exhibited samples of pictures before and after a retouching job.

Suggestions for preparations to make in order to secure better pictures will be sent to CHS shortly before the pictures are taken next year. Then the photographer will come and make four pictures of each individual from which the individual will pick the best one for retouching. The pictures will be completed and sent back to Canyon before Christmas so that they mav be used for gifts.

Prices for the pictures will range from $12.95 to $29.95. The least expensive set will consist of one 8x5 picture in a metal frame, one 3x5 in a miniature frame, 15 3x5 pictures in folders, and one diploma sized picture of the entire class.

The more expensive sets consist of these same items except for having 12 billfold sized pictures and more elaborate frames. Each individual will have his choice as to which set he wants.

Pictures for the annual and a plaque of the pictures of the entire class fo rthe office of the superintendent will be given to CHS by the company.

Talent Show Held

But I don't have any talent! Many a person expressed that complaint as Miss Clark, choir director, said that a talent show would be conducted during choir period on Thursday and Friday.

Each choir member took part by singing, playing or otherwise.

Surprisingly enough, everyone seemed to find some talent "real quick" when Miss Clark said she thought each person could do something.

Some of the singing groups participating in this talent show will take part in the Interscholastic League contest to be held at a later date.

Revival Noticed In Industrial Arts

Industrial arts offer at least as much inducement to budding architects, engineers and builders of modern America as any other phase of the curriculum. The development of talented youths in the applied sciences should not be slighted, but industrial arts are equally important.

In our industrially developed nation where mass production is almost completely predominant, people often overlook the need for industrial arts which, not only in the past history of our country, but also in today's modern living is essential.

In earlier schools not much emphasis was placed on the manual training courses offered in the schools. Ideas have changed and industrial arts is being emphasized to keep youngsters interested and meanwhile bring out the individual creativeness of many students.

Today, the most proficient with their hands are those who still get ahead faster and the desire to create is prevalent in nearly all of us.

For a well rounded education, uncovering and developing creative skills and talents is essential.

Junior-Senior Banquet Is Planned 'Arabian Nights' Is To Be Theme

Built around the theme "Arabian Nights," plans and preparations for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet are now completed. The formal event is to be held Saturday, March 29, in the Canyon Elementary School.

Around 240 juniors and seniors are expected to be on hand for the festivities which will include eating, a lively program and dancing.

Special musical selections will be presented during the meal. The menu will remain a secret until the night of the banquet.

Speaker for the banquet is to be Mr. J. McDonnough, head of the speech department of Amarillo Junior College. After his address a vocal duet from WTSC will sing and the benediction will be given.

Dance music will be furnished by the Sultans of Swing who will take requests for dance music.

Plans have been in preparation for several weeks as various committees worked with tremendous enthusiasm.

The decorations committee is composed of Nancy McCormick, Craig Hinger, Jeanne Whinnery, Bernice Green, Suzanne Lemons, J. W. Simms, Larry Brotherton, Ross Bond, Melba Haile, Ann Jarrett and Jimmy Brasher. Eddie Boydstun is the committee chairman.

Members of the invitations committee are Joyce Ricketts, Jimmie Boyd, Edwina Hugg, Cathy Morris, Nancy Wiggins, Ronald Frank, Martha Maddux and Sally Foster. Barbara Lindsey is chairman.

On the entertainment committee are Mayla Atkinson, Dale Henry, Jo Ann Prichard, Bob Winn, Pat Pond, Delores Wagner and Roy Harris.

Serving on the food and program committee are Margaret Juniper, John Menke, Carolyn Campbell, Pat Downing, Velma Frank, Larry Kitchens and Gary Hicks. Sondra Hines is the committee chairman.

Mr. Oscar Schuette and Mrs. A. K. Knott, junior sponsors, are supervising the entire banquet plans.

If sold for the value of its chemical elements, the human body would be worth about 98 cents.

Sheriff Arrests Parole Violator

The arrest of a parole violator and his woman companion Saturday night by the Randall County Sheriff's Department has provided a probable solution to the burglary of the Hospital Pharmacy in Borger Thursday night.

Yes. Agriculture is a basic economic factor in Canyon and Randall County. The Chamber of Commerce is extremely interested in those projects that will bring about more prosperity for rural people. Several rural people have recognized this interest and are now active paying members of the Chamber of Commerce. These people are also taking on active interest, not only in agriculture activities, but also other activities.

IS THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REALLY INTERESTED IN SECURING NEW INDUSTRY?

Yes, industry provides employment — employment means payrolls — payrolls mean prosperity. The Chamber of Commerce recognizes the vital need for additional employment opportunities in Canyon. Every effort is being exerted to secure new industries. Additional industry is a must in Canyon if Randall County is to have a balanced economy in the future.

DOES THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAVE CONTROL IN THE CITY GOVERNMENT?

No. The administration of your city government is accomplished by the Mayor and City Council. The Chamber of Commerce is concerned with the promotion and civic betterment of Canyon and cooperates with your city government to make Canyon a better place in which to live.

IS THE CANYON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GOVERNED BY THE WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OR THE NATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE?

No. Both organizations make available information and valuable services to the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. The Canyon Chamber of Commerce is an independent organization whose policies and activities are governed by its own membership.

DOES THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ENTER INTO POLITICAL OR CONTROVERSIAL MATTERS?

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce, although always interested in good government and the welfare of the community, takes no part in politics, belongs to no party, and supports no candidates.

In controversial matters that affect the welfare of the community, the Chamber of Commerce tries to seek out all the facts and presents them to the clear view of everyone in the community. By its very nature, the Chamber of Commerce must ignore all special interests.

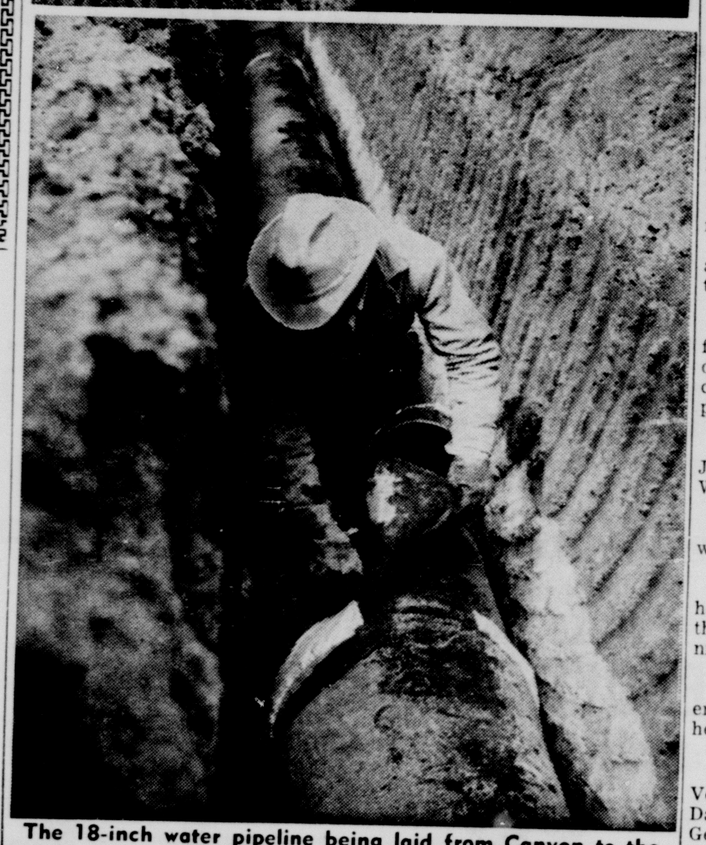
Pipeline Working



The 18-inch water pipeline being laid from Canyon to the new waterfield west of town is placed into the six-foot ditch section by section with a crane. The sections are fitted together and pulled tight with a side-mount winch on a Caterpillar. Each section weighs about two tons, requiring considerable delicacy in handling. The joints are sealed on the inside by a rubber gasket that is kept closed by water pressure. After the sections are joined, other workmen come behind and pour concrete grouting in the joint to seal them from the outside, as shown in the lower picture.

Nuptial Plans Are Revealed at Tea

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hales of Amarillo have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ruby Lee, to Richard Dewitt Cunningham of Lubbock.

Nuptial plans were revealed recently at a tea given in the Hales home. The couple will be married May 10 in the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Amarillo.

Receiving the guests at the tea were the honoree, her mother and her sister, Mrs. E. V. Gordon of Amarillo.

Decorative arrangements of white chrysanthemums and yellow jonquils with lemon leaves were used throughout the receiving rooms. Laid with a white net over yellow taffeta, the serving table was centered with an arrangement of two net hearts trimmed with satin ribbon and resting on a puff of net. Wedding bells centered the arrangement and a miniature bride and groom completed the centerpiece.

Presiding at the silver service were Mrs. J. W. Gwyn, a cousin of the bride-elect, and Mrs. A. C. Gordon, both of Amarillo. Guests were registered by Beverly Purnett and Mrs. Robert Schulger of Lubbock.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Robert Howard, sister of the bride-elect; Mrs. Frank Cunningham of Perryton; Mrs. Richmond Hales and Mrs. Jones Hales of Canyon; Mrs. Joe Hales, Mrs. Lewis Hales, Peggy Sue Hales and Jeannie Hales, all of Amarillo.
